Naropa University Disclosure

Notice to students pursuing the Clinical Mental Health Counseling M.A., which may lead to professional license or certification required for employment.

This document is effective July 1, 2023 and replaces any previously published or distributed versions of the document. Updated October 30, 2023.

Professional licensure and/or certification requirements vary from state to state, which may affect a student's ability to secure a professional license or certification upon the completion of the program. The U.S. Department of Education regulation 34 CFR 668.43(a)(5)(v) requires an institution to disclose if they have determined whether the program will fulfill educational requirements for licensure or certification in each state.

The Naropa University education combines rigorous academic learning with contemplative practice. All concentrations of our Clinical Mental Health Counseling M.A. are currently CACREP equivalent, but not CACREP accredited. This means that we teach all of the core components that are required by CACREP to be a Clinical Mental Health Counselor, in addition to leading edge contemplative mindfulness, and mind/body integration tools.

If you are a graduating student, we strongly encourage you to start the process of applying for professional licensure in the state you intend to practice in prior to leaving Naropa. Begin by reaching out to your concentration area advisor who can connect you to a Naropa team member that provides licensure and credentialing support. The GSCP Licensing & Credentialing Specialist is available to assist students and alumna through the licensure application process. Licensure application approval is determined solely at the discretion of each jurisdiction's licensing board and any guidance provided by Naropa University or its employees is not a guarantee of licensure approval or acceptance of education to meet requirements.

Naropa has determined that the Clinical Mental Health Counseling M.A. curriculum meets the educational requirements for Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC) licensure within Colorado.
